The Rendez-Vous 2012 Call for Abstracts is now available online.

Under the conference theme of “Engaging community participation in education, health, research, and service,” the Rendez-Vous 2012 program offers you an unprecedented learning opportunity covering education, health, research, and service discussions from international perspectives of community participation and community engagement.

Thunder Bay, Northern Ontario, will welcome presenters and delegates from around the globe to this first joint world conference, where you will have the opportunity to connect with members of Wonca, The Network: Towards Unity for Health (TUFH), Flinders University, the Training for Health Equity Network (TheNet) and the Consortium for Longitudinal Curricula (CLIC), and to meet health professional educators, government representatives, and community stakeholders.

Six streams of abstract submission provide a diversity of topics for you to share your scholarly work and thought provoking presentations:

1. Community-Engagement in Health Professional Education
2. Transforming Health Professional Education Globally
3. Developing a Culture for Interprofessional (IP) Learning and Practice

4. Innovations in Longitudinal Integrated Curricula
5. Social Accountability in Health Profession Education
6. Advocacy: Women and Health

We look forward to receiving your abstract(s) through our online abstracts submission form.

Detailed information regarding abstract submission, format and presentation, review, registration and abstract publication can be found on the Rendez-Vous 2012 website
